Four-Day Celebration In Redwood City Ends

Redwood City's Ninth Annual Fourth of July Celebration was just a tired memory Tuesday for more than 300 volunteer workers.

All that remained was a clean-up of the grounds on Lower Broadway and a final check of the receipts and disbursements.

Ted Hopkins, treasurer of the sponsoring Peninsula Celebrations Assn., reoprted that approximately $50,000 changed hands during the four days, but this was in no way an indication of the net profit.

Ticket Chmn. George Fakhouri announced that 12,002 paid admissions were registered for the rodeo, resulting in a gross income of $20,610.65.

In addition, untold thousands will be coming into the PCA treasury from the concessions which were operated by the member organizations. Hopkins explained that 65 per cent of the net income from these booths will go into the PCA treasury, and 35 per cent will be retained by the organizations.

It will probably be next week before even a semi-official count can be made, Hopkins said. He urged that each club turn in its financial statement as soon as possible to speed the cleanup.

Monday's final day crowd exceeded 10,000, with about half of these attending the last rodeo session in the afternoon. Booths were closed at 6 p.m., although stragglers remained until after 7.

Grounds Chmn. E. H. (Tex) Bean, whose daughter, Lois, reigned as queen of this year's event, was hard at work Tuesday tearing down the booths and cleaning up the litter of four days of celebrating.

Chairman of the rodeo events was Rusty Rufus. He was assisted by Sandy Wara, bucking shoots; Pete Towne, roping shoots and Jack Miles, secretary.

Visiting dignitaries had pulled out as radio's "Queen for a Day" Gisela Hall of Hollywood was on her way home; Capt. T. R. Wirth, representing the 12th Naval District.

As the Destroyer Hollister prepared to depart at 7:30 p.m. yesterday, Comdr. R. E. Magoffin sent ashore this message addressed to the citizens of Redwood City:

"The commanding officer desires to express for the officers and men of the USS Hollister their sincere appreciation, gratitude and thanks for their most hospitable reception and many kindnesses received during their much-too-brief stay with you. We sincerely hope that we may come again next year and spend this delightful period with you all. Thanks to each of you."

Fear Fisherman Drowning Victim

A San Francisco man was presumed to have drowned in the ocean near Rockaway Beach after his car was found parked near Coast Hwy., the sheriff's office reported Tuesday.

Jacob Zoller, 41, a welder, had gone fishing in the ocean on June 28, according to his brother, John Zoller of San Leandro.

The car was found parked off Coast Hwy. about a half mile north of Rockaway Beach, near the scene where another body floated in to shore two days ago. Mr. Zoller had been reported by his brother as missing.

An enthusiastic fisherman, Mr. Zoller was believed to have been washed off the rocks. A check was being made in San Francisco, where an unidentified body was washed up Monday night.

Daly City Unit Wins 1st Prize In Big Parade

More than 100 units competed yesterday in Redwood City's longest parade as an estimated 10,000 persons lined the downtown streets.

Following additional prizes were awarded, according to parade chairman, Floyd Granger:

Drum Corps — Memory Post American Legion of San Jose ($125), first; Red Devils of San Jose ($50), second; South San Francisco Athletic Club (trophy), third.

Men's Drill Team—U.S. Navy Treasure Island ($50), first.

Women's Drill Team — Young Women's Institute 93 of San Francisco ($50), first; Bonita Chapter NDGW ($25), second; Chapter 169 of San Francisco NDGW (trophy), third.

Marching Units — American Legion Post 105, Redwood City, first; James Lindsay Post VFW, Redwood City, second; Optimist Club of Redwood City, third.

Commercial Float—Holmquist Hardware Co., first.

Industrial Float—Lintt Manufacturing Co., first.

Drum Majorette—Red Devils, first; Memory Post American Legion, second.

Drum Major — Golden Gate Chapter NSGW, first.

Granger explained that a clever organization representing the Couriers, got tangled up in the large crowd and was eliminated from consideration, although it received honorable mention.

Policeman's Ball to Be Held Sept. 18 at Bay Meadows

The 22nd Annual Policeman's Ball will be held Sept. 18 at Bay Meadows, the Peninsula Peace Officers Assn. announced Tuesday.

Every police force in San Mateo County and the Sunnyvale and Mt. View departments will participate in the affair.

Receipts will go to the association's Widows' and Orphans' Fund. President Russell Cunningham of San Bruno appointed Officer Dorven (Bud) Kreeger of Burlingame general chairman.

Serving on the hall decorations and hat check committee are William Anderson, San Mateo; Richard and William Rittenmeyer, Burlingame; Philip Bray, Redwood City; Donald Lowe, San Carlos, and Al Funke, Hillsborough.

On the special events committee are Everett Pence, San Mateo, and Carl Schwahn, Burlingame.

Chief George Potter of Menlo Park and Chief F. Penford of Sunnyvale will serve on the reception committee.

Menlo Park Free Of Holiday Crashes

Menlo Park spent an accident-free Fourth of July weekend, Police Chief George Potter announced Tuesday.

No accidents were reported within the city limits during the three-day weekend, although thousands of cars streamed through the city on El Camino Real.

Two arrests were made for drunk driving, however. Potter reported that John Kristel, 64, 800 Roble Ave., Menlo Park, is free on $150 bail and is to appear before Menlo Park Police Judge Edward J. Ryan Wednesday night on a charge of driving while drunk on El Camino Real. Kristel was arrested by Sgt. Joe. Ferriera at 5:50 p.m. Saturday.

Jesse Quintana, 48, 1510 Hobart Blvd., Belmont, was arrested by Ferriera on El Camino Real at 7:50 p.m. Saturday on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was taken to the San Mateo County Jail and released on $150 bail.

Yule Lighting Plans Proposed

Richard Miller, Redwood City administrative assistant, Saturday had written the chamber of commerce pointing out a city council proposal for Christmas street lighting.

Until now city electricians have have handled this job. In the future, the council wants to donate $1500 to the chamber and have that organization handle the lighting.

Councilmen pointed out, Miller said, that Christmas is the busiest time for city electricians and that consequently they don't have time for the street lighting.

Board Meets ...For 15 Seconds

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors Tuesday morning held the shortest meeting on record. It lasted about 15 seconds.

Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey banged the gavel, had the clerk call the roll. He was the only one who answered, so he adjourned the meeting to call of the chair.

The other four supervisors, Hickey said, had not yet returned from the convention of the California Association of County Supervisors in San Diego.

Menlo Park To Air Plans For School

Should Fremont School be enlarged into an eight-grade school?

This will be one of the topics at a public meeting to which all residents of the Menlo Park Elementary School Dist. are invited on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Central School Auditorium.

The meeting has been called by the board of trustees to discuss allocation of pupils to schools in the district and was requested by residents of the Hermosa St. area who are opposed to proposed transfer of several Fremont School classes to Central School.

A new school has been proposed for the western area of the district where population growth has resulted in large increases in enrollment at the Fremont School. The board is negotiating for a school site on Elder Ave. between Santa Cruz and Valparaiso Aves.

Board members will hear discussion tomorrow night on the proposal that seventh and eighth grades be included at Fremont School. All students in the two upper grades have in the past attended Central School.

Bids on a new school on Encinal Ave. in Atherton in the eastern area of the school district will be opened by the board at 8 p.m. on Monday, July 19. The school will have seven grades when it is opened for use during the next school year.

Fliers on Day Off Decide To Do Some Flying, Start Club

Pan American fliers fly for fun when not in the air for Pan American.

Panair Cooperative Flying Club, Inc. was organized by Pan American employees from Mills Field about two years ago by members who like to fly light planes for recreation. Non flying employees have joined the club to learn to fly.

The club owns two Taylorcraft ships—one a tandem used for instruction, and the other a side by side used for cross country flights. Members pay $125 initiation fee, $3 a month dues, and $3 hourly fee in the air. The original $125 is the price for a share in the planes; the dues are used for craft maintenance and depreciation.

Because Pan American shifts its employes from base to base there is a large turnover in membership. When a member leaves he gets his $125 refunded. Bob Franseen and John Lindberg of Menlo Park are among the Bay Area members.

The club hangars its planes at the Bay Meadows airport which is just north of the race track. Members are privileged to fly 24 hours a quarter. Frequently they just cruise above the airport and around the Peninsula, but can make cross country flights. A cross country consists of 100 miles and at least three landings.

Members sign up for time in the air with the dispatcher at Bay Meadows. They report the type of flying and the general location. No acrobatics other than lazy eights, chandelles, steep turns, stalls, spins, and normal loops are allowed.

Planes are used practically 24 hours a day because of the various working shifts. For example, a man may like to fly after work at 6 a.m. or before work at midnight.

If a member crashes a ship the club treasury pays for repairs when there has not been negligence or violation of club rules. However, if the club safety board finds the member guilty of negligence or violation of the rules, the treasury pays two-thirds and the member the remainder.

Brophy Has Plan On Budget Revision

Additional Redwood City charter changes were suggested Saturday by City Assessor John J. Brophy.

Snce 1929 the city council has been approving such budgets with simple motions and without being called upon to conduct public meetings on their proposals. This year's budget calls for the expenditure of more than $700,000.

Briphy said that if a group was formed to consider charter amendments, it should consider:

1. Changing the date that the council sits as a board of equalization. The charter now calls for this meeting at a date later than the state demands to know the assessed values. This has meant that Brophy has been forced to send tentative figures to the state and then amend them after the board hearings.

2. Permitting the council to spend more than $500 without advertising for competitive bids on purchases. Brophy said that when the charter was adopted in 1929, $500 represented quite a bit of money. Because of inflation, however, it represents much less now.

Standard Honors Three From Area

In recognition of their continuous employment with Standard of California, two Menlo Park men have been presented with gold service pins, the company announced Saturday.

They are: Charles A. Douglass with 35 years of service and T. L. Lenzen with 20 years of service.

John Licata of Atherton was awarded a 10-year pin.

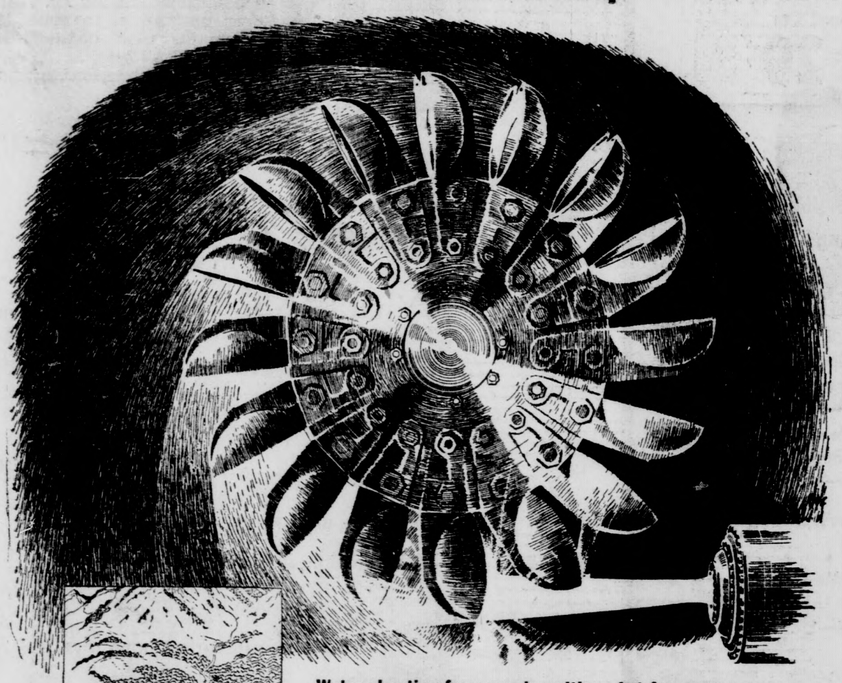
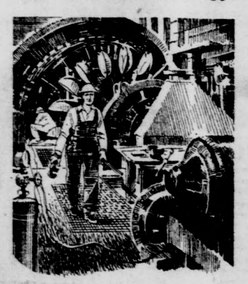
How to get power from water five times
...and not consume a drop



Water shooting from nozzles with rocket force spins 16-ton water wheels like toy tops in P. G. and E. powerhouses... but not a drop is wasted—it's put to work again and again.

Five different times, for example, water is borrowed from the Mokelumne River and sent rushing through penstocks (giant steel pipes) to whirl the generators. Then it's sent back on its way to municipal water supplies and farmer's irrigation ditches.

Here's a quick picture of the Mokelumne's 5 powerhouses. The top four—Salt Springs, Tiger Creek, West Point and Electra—are P. G. and E. plants. They will soon have a total capacity of 250,000 electrical horsepower—enough to serve the cities of Oakland, Stockton and Tracy.



Newest of the group is the big 133,000 horsepower Electra plant shown here in the final stages of construction. It will come on the line this month, bringing still more new power to serve growing California.

Work never stops on our power-building program

$4,000,000 SF Airport Facelifting

San Francisco Airport is due for further expansion.

The airfield, which is situated along Bayshore Highway in South San Francisco, is about to get a $4,000,000 facelifting. This announcement was made yesterday by San Francisco Utilities Mgr. James H. Turner.

Specifications for the project have been completed Turner said, and a contract will be awarded in the near future. The federal government is supplying $2,300,000 of the total cost.

Main feature of the new airport program is the construction of a northeast-southwest runway 8700 feet long. Other details include, extensive paving of taxiways, installation of drainage and sewage facilities, an elaborate electrical system and a water supply system.

The new main runway will partially replace the present northeast-southwest runway which now overruns the site of the proposed new administration building.

When the new runway is in service the strip which it replaces will be shortened, and work will begin on the administration headquarters. Turner said the latter project should start next spring.

The city's share of the construction costs involved in the runway and taxiway project will be supplied from the $20,000,000 airport bond issue of 1945. It is the second large project to be financed from this fund.

Turner said some $13,000,000 of the bond money had already been spent for earth fill and runway construction which doubled the size of the municipal airport.

Construction of the new administration building next spring will complete the expansion program envisioned in the 1945 bond issue.
